

Opportunities at the Forum for Global Human Rights (FGHR)!

Welcome to FGHR, the world's first student-led human rights forum! As a new human rights initiative created by and for young leaders, FGHR provides a platform for eager, independent students with keen interests in human rights research and advocacy to reinvent the space of human rights practice as an inclusive, interdisciplinary forum with a seat for students and young people at the table. FGHR is always looking for excited and engaged young students or recent graduates to realise our mission of reinventing the space of human rights practice.

Available Roles:

- ❖ Editor
- ❖ Content Writer
- ❖ Events Officer
- ❖ Grants Officer
- ❖ HR Officer
- ❖ Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Offi

True to the inclusive and interdisciplinary nature of FGHR's work, applications from students and recent graduates of all disciplines are welcome!

All details about our mission, our vision, and current projects & opportunities, including role descriptions and the application process can be found under the "Opportunities" page on our website: <https://www.forumglobalhumanrights.com>.

About FGHR

As a human rights initiative created by and for young leaders, the Forum for Global Human Rights provides a platform for those with keen interests in human rights research and advocacy to reinvent the space of human rights practice as an inclusive, interdisciplinary forum with a seat for students and young people at the table. In pursuit of this aim, we embrace a diversity of operation, including written publications, outreach and advocacy, a podcast platform, and pro-bono assistance to human rights organizations focused on advancing the protection of human rights around the world. In so doing, we look to provide young leaders with a platform to engage with important missions and ideas in the space of human rights, and ultimately make a practical and meaningful difference. If this sounds of interest to you, please consider applying for one of the above posts!

Successful applicants will be invited to an interview. Interviews will be scheduled on a rolling basis before and after the deadline of the vacancy. For any further questions or concerns, please reach out to forumglobalhumanrights@gmail.com.